Barry

I spoke to [REDACTED] briefly. You will see from the e-mail below that we have been requested to detail committed and non committed spend over each of the year's in the spending review return. I have pulled together the following table based on the narrative comments that you sent which I think captures your committed projects in each of the tables but would be grateful if you would check and let me know if there is anything additional that should be added. I was unsure about main cable inspection for example as I know this is something you have said is essential in terms of your monitoring of the cable but I was unsure whether this was actually "committed".

Grateful for your assistance with this.

Many thanks

Lesley
